

Cookies Policy

This website uses cookies, either its own or from third parties, in order to improve its services and operation, as well as to optimise the user's experience. Therefore, we understand that if you continue browsing or registering/installing the corresponding application or service and do not deactivate the cookies, you agree to their use.

The purpose of this Policy is to help you understand how cookies are used, the purpose of the cookies used, as well as the options available to you to manage them.

1. WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are files that are downloaded to the user's computer in order to collect data, which are essential for the proper functioning of web pages or applications, providing advantages to the user, facilitating navigation and usability of the same and that can be updated and retrieved by the website responsible for its installation.

Cookies can only be read by the service or application that issued them and under no circumstances are they executable files, nor can they be propagated or contain a virus. Likewise, the cookies used on this website do not collect users' personal data (names, surnames, address, bank details or any other data). Furthermore, in order to improve your privacy, the IP address has been encoded, keeping a record of them, so that, in this way, the information obtained through the cookie service used is exclusively statistical and totally anonymous.

In addition, this website uses the Google Analytics service, which will process the information on how the application and/or service is used, for the sole purpose of providing us with reports on its activity.

For more information you can consult the privacy centre of each of the analytical tools:

- Google Analytics: <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en> The information generated by the cookie about your use of the website will be directly transmitted to and stored by.

Google. If you wish to refuse permission for the statistical processing of data or information with Google Analytics, you can easily deactivate this service. To do so, please follow this link: <https://support.google.com/analytics/answer/181881?hl=en>

2. TYPES OF COOKIES USED

The cookies used are:

- 1. Depending on the entity that manages them:

o First-party cookies: These are cookies that are sent to the user's terminal equipment from a computer or domain managed by the application and from which the service requested by the user is provided.

o Third-party cookies: These are cookies that are sent to the user's terminal equipment from a computer or domain managed or not by the group, with a third party processing the data obtained through the cookies.

- 2. According to the length of time they remain activated on the terminal equipment:

o Session cookies: These are cookies designed to collect and store data while the user accesses a website or application. They are used to store information that only needs to be kept for the provision of the service requested by the user on a single occasion.

o Persistent cookies: These are cookies in which the data remains stored in the terminal and can be accessed and processed for a period defined by the group, which can range from a few minutes to several years.

- 3. According to the purpose for which the data obtained through cookies are processed:

o Technical cookies: These are those that allow the user to browse through a website, platform or application and use the different options or services that exist therein.

o Personalisation cookies: These are cookies that allow the user to access the service with some predefined general characteristics, depending on a series of criteria in the user's terminal (for example, the language, the type of browser through which the service is accessed, the regional configuration from where the service is accessed, etc.).

o Analysis cookies: These are cookies that allow the monitoring and analysis of the behaviour of the users of the websites to which they are linked. The information collected through this type of cookies is used to measure the activity of the websites, application or platform and for the elaboration of browsing profiles of the users of these sites, in order to introduce improvements based on the analysis of the usage data of the users of the service.

o Advertising cookies: These are those that allow the management, in the most effective way possible, of the advertising spaces that, where appropriate, have been included on a website, application or platform from which the requested service is provided, based on criteria such as the edited content or the frequency at which the advertisements are shown. This website does not integrate cookies of this type within the web services provided to the user.

o Behavioural advertising cookies: These cookies enable the management, in the most effective way possible, of the advertising spaces that, where appropriate, have been included on a website, application or platform from which the requested service is provided. These cookies store information on the behaviour of users obtained through continuous observation of their browsing habits, which allows a specific profile to be developed in order to display advertising based on the same. This website does not integrate cookies of this type within the web services provided to the user.

3. CONFIGURATION OF COOKIES

You can disable the use of cookies when you consider it appropriate through the configuration/adjustment options of your browser, in such a way that you can block, restrict, disable or delete the acceptance of cookies. However, we remind you that, should you decide to change your cookie settings, the service provided through the group's different websites may be partially or totally affected.

We provide links to the supports of the main web browsers on the market, where you can find out how to change your cookie settings:
